Understanding India (Lecture Series) Monday, 6st, 2014

"Women in India - The Role and Status of a Marginalized Sex"

Urvashi Butalia

Urvashi Butalia is co-founder of Kali for Women, India's first feminist publishing house and is currently Director of Zubaan, an imprint of Kali. She has been involved in the women's movement in India for over three decades and speaks and writes widely on issues related to women in India. Her areas of interest include gender, identity politics, religious fundamentalism, censorship and freedom of expression and issues relating to sexual violence and conflict. Among her various publications are: Speaking Peace: Women's Voices from Kashmir (edited), Women and Right Wing Movements: A Collection of Essays (co-edited); Inner Line: Women's Stories from India (edited) and the award winning history of the Partition of India, The Other Side of Silence: Voices from the Partition of India (which won the Oral History Book Association Award 2001 and the Nikkei Asia Award for Culture 2003). In 2011 Ms Butalia was awarded the Padmashri, one of India's highest civilian honours. Ms Butalia lives and works in Delhi.